

Customer Demographics & Product Intelligence Dashboard

Key Insights

- Total Orders reached 10,000 across all customer segments.
- The United States contributed the highest number of orders, significantly outperforming other countries.
- Electronics emerged as the highest-performing product category. The customer base is nearly evenly split between male and female customers, indicating balanced market participation.
- The average customer age is 36.5 years, suggesting strong engagement from working-age consumers. Product categories show similar average customer ages, indicating broad appeal across age groups.

Recommendations

- Increase marketing investment in the United States to capitalize on its strong demand.
- Develop targeted campaigns for underperforming countries to diversify revenue sources.
- Expand inventory and promotions for the Electronics category due to its high order volume.
- Use age-based customer segmentation to create personalized marketing campaigns.
- Analyze loyalty tiers further to identify opportunities for improving customer retention and repeat purchases.